Socio-economic implications of structural changes in plantations in African countries

Author(s)

Lugogo JA, Dadson, J. A, Msambichaka LA, Bagachwa Msd

Abstract

ILO pub. Working paper, case studies of social implications and economic implications of structural change in plantations in Ghana, Cote d'Ivoire, Kenya and Tanzania - examines trends affecting agricultural production of cash crops and agricultural employment; comments on legislation regarding land ownership (inc. Land reform); considers agricultural price, agricultural income, wages and working conditions of plantation workers (incl. Rural women). Map, references, statistical tables, tables.